Dino -School Blues

Created by: Alexander Rodriguez
Sometimes, dinosaurs get sick.
Their throat hurts,
their eyes itch,
and their stomach aches.
You can get sick from something called a virus.

It gets in your body, but it is so small you can't see it!
That is why doctors say, you have to be very careful and wash your hands, eat your vegetables and cover your mouth.
But it turns out, your school can get sick too!
My school did not wash its hands,
or eat its vegetables,
or cover its mouth when it sneezed.
Now we can not go back to school, and this makes me sad.
I am sad until I see my teacher.
My teacher lives in my computer now, but I still don't know how they got in there?
And I can see my friends on online!
Mommy says that after summer I will get a new school, new teacher and new friends!
I still miss my old school, but I have a lot of fun at home.
I hope my school gets better soon.

Words To Know

sick – not feeling good; like when you have a tummy ache or cough

ache – feeling hurt for a long time

virus – tiny creatures that can make what they touch sick

doctor – a person whose job it is to help people feel better

cover – to put something over something else

online – using the internet; usually on a smart phone, tablet or computer Talk To Your Child About:

How they feel about school being cancelled for the rest of the year.

What you can do at home to remind you of school.

The questions they have about starting a new school.
Even though you can not go to school, it misses you very much, and so do your teachers! Why not write them a letter? Make sure to write your name and use words and/or pictures to send your teacher or teachers a message. Call your campus and inquire about zero-contact drop off policies.
